DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-6 and 14-20, drawn to a process of making laminated thin plate parts, classified in class 29, subclass 830.
  - II. Claims 7-13, drawn to a process of making an ink jet head, classified in class 29, subclass 890.1.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions of Groups I and II are related as mutually exclusive species in an intermediate-final product relationship. Distinctness is proven for claims in this relationship if the intermediate product is useful to make other than the final product (MPEP § 806.04(b), 3rd paragraph), and the species are patentably distinct (MPEP § 806.04(h)). In the instant case, the intermediate product of Group I is deemed to be useful as laminated thin plate parts in devices other than ink jet heads, such as printed circuit boards, and the inventions are deemed patentably distinct since there is nothing on this record to show them to be obvious variants. Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions anticipated by the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Art Unit: 3729

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group II is not required for Group I, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. If applicants' elect the invention of Group I, then a further restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

I-A. Claims 1-4 and 16-20, drawn to a process of making laminated thin plate parts, classified in class 29, subclass 830.

I-B. Claims 5, 6 and 19, drawn to a process of cutting connecting pieces smaller in width than the thin plate parts from the thin plate parts, classified in class 29, subclass 412.

I-C. Claims 14 and 15, drawn to a process cutting connecting pieces located at different positions in each thin plate part from the thin plate parts, classified in class 29, subclass 423.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

5. Inventions of Groups I, II and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, the inventions in Groups I, II and III each have separate utility within the process of making.

Group I laminates thin plate parts without the use of any connecting pieces or without any necessary cutting, as required by Groups I and II. Group II laminates thin plate parts by cutting connecting pieces smaller in width than the thin plate parts. Group III laminates thin plate parts by cutting connection pieces that are located at different positions in each thin plate part. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

6. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

7. Due to the complexity of the above restriction requirement, a telephone call was not made to the applicant in order to have the requirement above fully and carefully considered.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

8. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

9. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to A. Dexter Tugbang whose telephone number is 703-308-7599. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday - Friday 7:00 am - 3:30 pm.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Peter Vo can be reached on 703-308-1789. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 703-872-9306.
